Options for Size Charts and Pricing

In order to deal with a single costume that has different prices based on size, it is necessary to create a costume for each price, however, some organizations choose to use an average price and create one costume. You may want to read through the options prior to deciding how you prefer to proceed.

Option 1 (1 size chart/1 costume/averaged pricing)

To force Jackrabbit to look at both Child & Adult Size Charts, create one chart with both child & adult sizes. If a size overlaps (for example, with a Child XL and an Adult XS, tweak the girth range to accommodate for this. Otherwise, Jackrabbit will assign the first size it sees that fits the student's girth - the Child XL).

This is an example of a female size chart offered by The Costume Gallery.

✏	🗑	65.50	68.00	Adult X-Large
✏	🗑	68.50	72.00	Adult XX-Large

Child XX-Large has been omitted and the Sizing for Child X-Large and Adult Small have been adjusted so there is no girth overlap.

When creating a costume for a class that has students in both child & adult sizes, select the combined size chart. In this option, if the adult pricing and child pricing are slightly different, average the two-unit costs.

The Costume Details window can be found in the Class (menu) > Costume (tab). Click the Item Name to open the window.

When auto-sizing, Jackrabbit will assign sizes properly based on the combined chart.

Option 2 (2 size charts/2 costumes/exact pricing)

To maintain exact prices for costumes, create two size charts for a vendor - one for child sizes and another for adult sizes.

In this example, since Hide Auto-Size is set to NO (Gear icon > Settings > General > Costumes/Apparel Module Settings > Hide Auto-Size), any student that meets the girth ranges in the Revolution Child - Female chart will be sized. In this example, one student (with a girth of 62) did not meet the criteria and was left unsized.
