Last Modified on 01/16/2024 11:18 am EST

It's time to start planning for the Summer Season! Offering programs during the summer helps to keep revenue flowing year-round, provides a much-needed service for families when kids are out of school, and it's a great opportunity to market to new families.

A few things to keep in mind:

- Classes may only last a week or two.
- Families may prefer a daily enrollment option.
- Different policies may be required.
- Registration fees may or may not be needed.
- Deposit or payment may be required prior to the start date.
