

Announcements on the Executive Dashboard

Last Modified on 02/12/2024 2:34 pm EST

The Internal Announcements widget on the Executive Dashboard allows you to share information with your Jackrabbit Users. These announcements are visible to Users when they visit the Executive Dashboard.

Share messages with your Users, similar to posting notes on a bulletin board.

Help your Users remember important information; they'll see your announcements every time they visit the Executive Dashboard.

Encourage your team with fun and uplifting quotes or images.

Permissions control your Users' ability to see certain data and take specific actions. The Internal Announcements widget requires the Edit Settings, Logo, Announcements permission in the Tools category. Learn more about Permissions for Jackrabbit Users.

Use the Move Widget icon to drag and drop the widget anywhere on your Executive Dashboard to customize your view. Your chosen layout will be retained each time you visit. Collapse or expand the widget using the  or  next to Internal Announcements.

Add or Edit an Announcement
